MAITREYA'S WORDS

100% HAPPY

Maitreya's speech on July 10th in Tokyo

I love you. Elohim love you.

Feel it, feel it every second of your life, feel the love of the Elohim always. They are looking at you always. Just that makes us happy.

The real happiness is here, right here.

Here is different for different people in different places. For me it is right here and right now.

But what is 'right here' and 'right now'?

What is 'right here' in the space?

The Earth is moving so this place is moving. So happiness is right here at this place but this place is moving while the Earth moves around the sun.

No place is ever the same place. The sun and the Earth are moving around the center of the galaxy... Happiness is right here but right here is always a different place.

So where is happiness?

Ten minutes ago this place was another place so we are never somewhere, we are everywhere and happiness is everywhere. But my happiness is where my consciousness is.

Happiness is moving because my consciousness is moving.

Happiness is here but we just showed that there is no 'here' since we are everywhere.

Happiness is 'here and now'.

But what is 'now'?

'Right now' is right now... 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, now... finished. Now is happiness but it is already finished.

So what is 'now'? 3:36pm and 2s, 3s, 4s... when is 'now'?

'Now' is always moving. Does 'now' exist? There is no 'now' because when I say 'now' it is already passed. I could say 'n...o...w...' in a slow motion or very fast but it will pass all the same.

There is no 'here' and there is no 'now' so when I say that happiness is 'here and now' it isn't really true.

Happiness is everywhere my consciousness goes and everytime I use my consciousness. Life is a succession of now and a succession of here.

That's very interesting, you can never be somewhere. We have the illusion of not moving but we are moving. We have the illusion of a moment but we are moving in time. Two illusions... That's where we realize that happiness is everywhere and forever.

Every second, every little bit of a second, every little bit of a centimeter becomes magic because it is a succession of 'here' and 'now' which are different and make our life beautiful.

Interesting concept isn't?

When you move, you move in space but you move also in time. So we are traveling in time. A few days ago I was young, I had hair. Not anymore. Yesterday I had a black beard, today it is white. Life is going very very fast.

It is a succession of here and now. We are traveling in space and time.

We can be depressed or sad and negative but time and space will keep on going. Whether happy or sad, anyway, you grow old, you lose hair, become white have the breast go down. But there is a difference between traveling in space and time happy or negative.

Being happy, you can have a happy life.

Whatever we do, we will become old and die. Better be happy before it happens!

So enjoy it, enjoy every 'here and now' of your life.

How many 'here and now' do you have in your life?

An infinity yes! An infinity of here and an infinity of now. So what does it mean? We have an infinite possibility of happiness. You can decide to have an infinity of sadness or an infinity of negativity or be at 50/50.

I choose 100% happy.

What do you choose? What label do you want on your bottle?

Organic? 100% natural, no artificial color??....

100% HAPPY !!!

I love you all. Be happy for Eternity, for an infinity of here and now.

I love you

THANK TO THE MESSAGES, LIFE HAS A PURPOSE WHICH IS BIGGER THAN YOU

Maitreya's meditation on July 4th

So you close your eyes. And you start feeling yourself right here, right now.

Where am I? Why am I here? Why did I travel to come to this place?

I had to wake up, take a shower maybe, and then travel by car or train to come here. Why?

Because of Elohim.

Because we love Elohim.

No trip is too long to say thank you Elohim. No trip is too difficult.

50 kilometers, 100 km, 1000 km... Nothing is too big to be together to say thank you to Elohim.

Then you know why you are here and now.

You feel it in your body, I am here.

For the Elohim, you feel it in your heart. Your heart is beating by Elohim.

You feel it in your mind, your thought, your love, all for Elohim.

And then you feel a strong, huge power because you are alive on Earth for Elohim.

And all of you, your life has a purpose.

You are part of an incredibly big mission.

The mission to build an Embassy and to welcome our creators.

It's not my mission. It's not the mission of Rael.

You are part of it. It is your responsibility. Feel it.

It's not, 'Ah Rael will do it, I don't care'. No!

You will do it, we will do it together.

The Embassy, we are building it right now.

First we have to build it in our heart, in our mind.

Then we will make it and that's why you came. Otherwise it would be better to stay in bed or to watch a stupid TV show.

You came because you are part of a mission. And each one of you has a very special responsibility in this mission.

Don't think 'I am a little girl, I am a young student, I am just a housewife, I can do just a little bit'. No! What you can do is huge.

And maybe the most simple Raelian will be the one with the most important action to build the embassy. So feel it in your heart. Maybe you are the one who will have the biggest action, the most important action to build the embassy.

Feel it. Imagine that it is you who are the one who is responsible to build the embassy, only you! Are you ready?

Open your eyes slowly. Look at me. Are you ready? Are you ready to be the one who will build the embassy?

That's why we are together.

Lotus who just became Guide and Princess Loona, spokesperson for Europe

Thank you Elohim for this power.

Thank you Elohim for this responsibility.

Before the message, our life was without any purpose. Making stupid money? Building a new stupid house. Buying a new stupid TV? New stupid clothes? Going to Okinawa to lay down on a beach to have a stupid suntan? And get a stupid skin cancer?

No, your life has a real purpose.

Thank to the Messages, life has a purpose which is bigger than you.

Can you imagine a bigger purpose in life? Is it possible? No, it isn't possible.

You are very lucky. We are very lucky.

We are the only human being on earth, the Raelians here and through the TV, we are the only Raelians on Earth, the only people on Earth with this mission. And we will do it!

Thank you Elohim.

IF YOU ARE NOT HAPPY, YOU DON'T DESERVE THE MESSAGES.

Meditation on June 27th

Thank you Elohim.

Thank you Elohim.

Thank you Elohim.

We are together today thanks to you.

To celebrate your name. To sing your name. To dance your name.

To shout your name everywhere on Earth.

You are the light in our life. You are our only hope. You are the only reason why we are here.

Thank you Elohim.

Thank you Elohim.

In every language of the world, we must say thank you Elohim. Say it in your own language, everybody.

We can open our eyes slowly.

This is a beautiful Japanese summer day. I want one more time to tell you how much I am happy to be in Japan. And how much I hope I can stay and not leave forever.

Because I love it. I was very happy in Canada. But I don't miss Canada. I miss the Canadian Raelians.

But they come here so we have no problem. And every foreigner coming here wants to stay also.

After being here a few weeks with you, Daniel Turcotte enjoyed so much your warm love that he is also thinking to stay. He is leaving today, the wonderful Daniel who is in charge of the great continent of South America.

But he wants to come back. I hope every Raelian of the world will come to Japan.

It is good to have impossible dreams, I hope we can make the Embassy one day in Japan.

It is a great place to welcome Elohim. Would you be happy?

So Thank you Elohim for all this love.

Send your love and your great thankfulness to Elohim everyday of your life.

And every hour of your life and every minute of your life and every second of your life.

Sometimes we have ups and downs.

When we are not good Raelians, we can be very happy and then depressed.

When you are depressed, when you are sad, it's because you forget the Elohim.

How can you be depressed if you think about Elohim?

If you think about Elohim and the mission they gave us you cannot have down.

You are down because you forget.

Oh I lose my job! Oh, I lose my girlfriend! Oh I lose my boyfriend!

That is not important. The Elohim are always in your heart.

So instead of 'Oh, I lose my job', you say 'I lose my job but I have the Messages'.

'I lose my boyfriend but I have the Messages'.

'No more money, but I have the Messages'.

If you think like that, if the Elohim are constantly in your heart, you are never depressed.

You can lose everything, become sick, have cancer, be ready to die?

Even if you know you will die in a few days, if Elohim are in your heart, be happy.

And that is a big difference.

When you are real Raelians, you are happy constantly.

Or you can have little, short sadness, but make it short.

It is good to have short sadness, 'Oh I lose at petanque!!! but I learn many things, new challenge'. 'I break one leg, oh! but I will fix it'.

And I learned the mistake I did when I broke my leg.

The sadness is very short, because you have always Elohim in your heart.

If you stay sad for a long time or depressed, you forget the Elohim, and you are a bad Relian.

You don't deserve the Messages if you stay depressed always. If you stay depressed constantly, it is better to quit the Relian Movement.

How can you have the Messages and be sad forever ? Is it possible ? No!

If you do it, it is better to go back to Buddhism or Christianity, because you don't deserve the Messages if you are constantly sad.

Knowing the Messages, reading the Messages, being the Messages , you must have constant happiness. Some little sadness can be good, like day and night, like Yin and Yang.

But your life must be a life of happiness if Elohim are in your heart.

Remember : if you are not happy, you don't deserve the Messages.

I think about it!

Anytime you feel negative thinking, say "oh! I don't deserve the Messages"

"How can I be sad and depressed with this Message ?"

Then your life will be happiness forever. That is the most beautiful teaching of Elohim.

And the secret that people have asked me many times: 'why did they create us?' : To be happy!

They wanted to create happy people. So be happy!

Some people pray Elohim: 'Elohim I love you'... No!

The best way to pray Elohim is to laugh. To be happy! To spread happiness around you. To spread light everywhere

That is to be Raelian. Thank you Elohim.

I LOVE YOU!

IN THE GARDEN OF TRUTH

By Kimbangu Mundele

Upon the Earth, lies a special garden.

So subtle that it must be entered in silence,

So disturbing, so moving, so thrilling

That in its mist, one's religious instinct can flourish.

From one tree to the next

While strolling in a grove

Coming upon a marvelous flower

One finds oneself as if in a green poem.

An irresistible pleasure

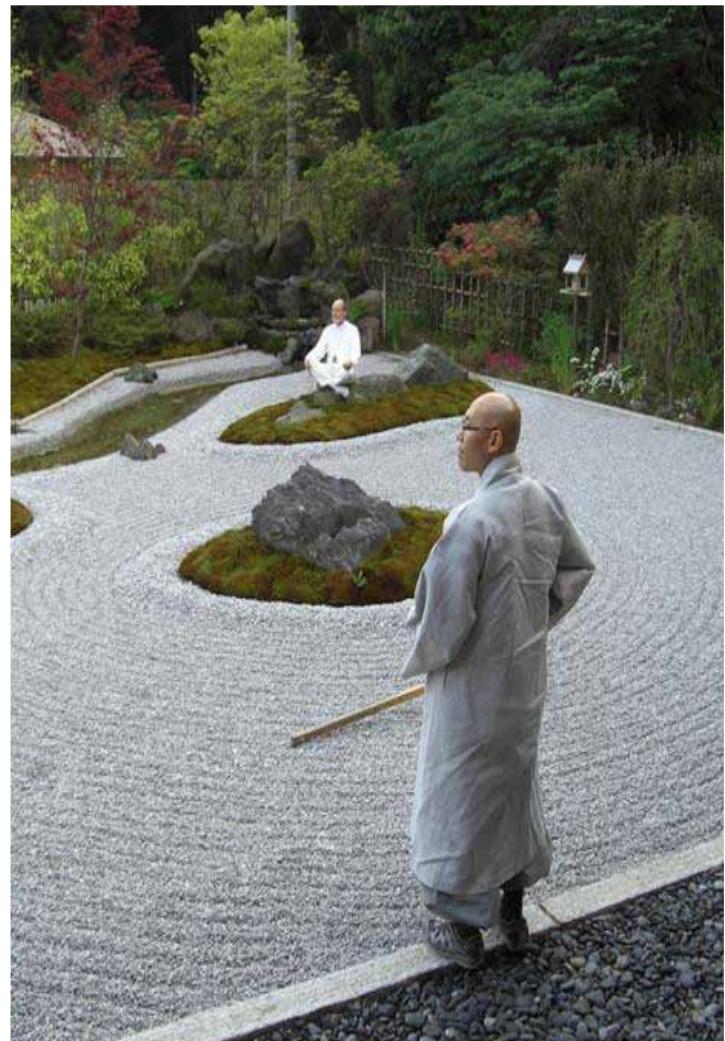

A peak of refinement

An unspeakable privilege

We are bathing in the Art of Our Creators.

To overcome one's limits

To let it all infuse and only retain love

While meditating upon this Man
We discover an infinite spiritual garden.

NEWS AND VIEWS

RAEL WILL KEEP STAYING IN VALAIS DESPITE CONFIRMATION OF RESIDENCY DENIAL

Contrary to what the media wrote, although the federal authorities confirmed their rejection of Rael's application for permanent residency, this does not mean a denial of entry. Rael will therefore continue to spend up to 3 consecutive months in Valais every year, as any tourist is entitled to. Rael actually spends his life traveling around the world to promote the Raelian Movement which is established in more than 100 countries. Therefore he never spends more than 3 months in the same country.

He said: "This does not make any difference because I never intended to stay more than 3 months per year... but I love the fantastic Valais team very much, led by Alan Tschopp who will continue to produce the wine bearing my name."

RAELIANS WIN SALES TAX APPEAL, ALLEGE RELIGIOUS DISCRIMINATION BY STATE OF NEVADA

By a 4-3 decision of the Nevada Tax Commission, the United States Raelian Movement (USRM) and an auxiliary organization have each won their appeal for state sales tax exemption in Nevada, according to Thomas Kaenzig, the USRM's western regional Guide.

"The state initially revoked our sales tax exemption when Nova Distribution, our publishing arm, applied for its own exemption," Kaenzig said in a statement released this morning. "We applied last fall for sales tax exemption for the Nova entity so we wouldn't have to pay sales tax on our book orders. But when the state declined Nova's application, they saw fit to investigate the USRM's status as well, and they wound up revoking the existing USRM exemption. It was a double whammy for us, and it was blatantly unfair and wrong, so naturally we appealed."

Kaenzig said the state's main argument was that the USRM doesn't have an actual physical church or building where members meet on a regular basis.

"That's a guideline that clearly discriminates against any small religion that can't afford its own place of worship," Kaenzig said. "It also discriminates against any religion that, for whatever reason, simply doesn't want to have a consistent physical meeting spot."

"We just received a letter confirming the final ruling," Kaenzig said. "Both the USRM and Nova Distribution are now sales tax exempt in Nevada. But more importantly, we have just set a precedent for other small religious groups suffering from this sort of discrimination. The USRM is a recognized official religion under U.S. federal law. Since having a physical building isn't a requirement for that distinction, it shouldn't be a requirement at the state level either."

RAEL INVITES ALL RAEILIANS AND NON-RAEILIANS, ESPECIALLY MUSLIMS, TO MAKE CARICATURES OF HIMSELF.

Rael, leader of the Raelian Movement, has expressed his support to all those who protest threats made by radical Muslim groups against people who depict the prophet Mohammad. He also encourages all those who want to make a caricature of himself to do so, so that he can have a chance to laugh at them.

"I ask all freedom lovers to create and publish drawings of any god, Allah or Elohim, and also of any prophet, including caricatures of myself, since they always make me laugh." declared Rael. "This is something religious fanatics forget: we have been created to laugh.”

“Freedom of expression for artists must never be limited.” explains Rael. “Besides we don’t have an actual photo of the real Muhammad, so nobody can say if it’s him or not when someone draws a caricature.”

Rael added that, most importantly, although religious Muslims can follow a rule asking them not to make any images of their prophet, non-Muslims have no such obligations. “Any Muslim can make a drawing of Jesus or Buddha. Freedom of expression must be absolute and free from any censorship.”

RAEL EXPRESSES HIS SUPPORT TO MORDECHAI VANUNU IN THE HOPE OF A WORLD FREE OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS

The former nuclear technician Mordechai Vanunu was found guilty of espionage in 1986 after he told a British newspaper, the Sunday Times, that Israel was secretly building atomic bombs. After 18 years in prison, he still faces restrictions in Israel including a ban on contact with foreigners either by phone or in perso.

SYNTHETIC LIFE FORMS

We all celebrated the announcement made by Craig Venter a few weeks ago, of the creation of the first synthetic life form, a living cell made with artificial chromosomes.

We were of course not surprised to see that some environmental campaigners were fighting to ban the release of these synthetic life forms into the wild. The Etc Group has already laid claim to a degree of success after helping to come up with a “de facto moratorium” on synthetic biology at the UN Convention on Biological Diversity in Nairobi, Kenya.

Maitreya commented: « when the Elohim created life on their planet, they met strong opposition, similar to this one. That’s why they finally sent a team to create life on earth .We witness here the same exact process”.

BAN OF KOSHER SLAUGHTER IN NEW ZEALAND

The new animal welfare code which became effective last month mandates that all animals for commercial consumption must be stunned prior to slaughter.Rabbis are doing all they can in Australasia to get the decision reversed.

Maitreya commented: “ this barbaric treatment of animals should be forbidden worldwide as well as the human mutilation called circumcision. It is time to get rid of all barbaric superstitious behaviours as well as it was done for human sacrifices.”

The Rabbis are trying to use the freedom of religion to keep the practice going. Hoepfully the respect of life will be considered a priority over freedom of religion...

RAELIANS WHO DISTURB

IN HER PROFESSION....LILIPEACE TELLS HER STORY:

On Friday, May 21, I took a course in law with other Therapists, a compulsory course to be recognized in my profession by health insurance. A colleague of the course came to ask me questions about the symbol I was wearing, I explained that it was the symbol of infinity, and also the Raelian symbol.

And she asked me ‘What is Raelian’?

I replied that if she wanted we could discuss it another time. And then I heard another colleague answering: "Oh you're a Raelian, you're one of Rael's whores!" Rael, he advocates pedophilia "

I turned to him and told him calmly that I had some questions to ask:

- Did he know me?
 - Had he ever met Raelians in his life?
 - Had he been in contact with the Raelian Movement?

He replied: "TV and newspapers talk about it ..."

I told him he did not answer my questions, and I didn't understand why he insulted me with such meanness.

Would he liked me to do the same thing about his religion?

There he began to stammer

I didn't want to talk to him anymore, I just let go.

On the way back home, I thought of the words that this man uttered. I thought he probably was very unhappy, and that perhaps he would like to be part of a group like ours, but he dared not. I also remembered a few weeks earlier he had told another colleague that he would not like to see his wife dressing like me ...
hihihihihihihihihi

On Friday, May 28, I had this law course again. When the teacher arrived he gave me a big smile. He didn't start the class immediately because a participant was late. He waited for the man who had disrespected me the week before.

When he arrived he had his head down. The teacher told us that this course would be special. He then asked us if we remembered how the class ended last week. He explained that at the end of the class Lilipeace had been insulted by Mr. M. and a few days later he called him to say he should apologize for his behavior in front of everyone at the next class.

Mr. M. then apologized and I accepted his apology.

But the teacher did not stop there, he said he had thought deeply about the questions I asked to Mr. M. on May 21, questions he didn't answer. He said these questions were important before judging a person ... He didn't want this story to end with just simple apologies, but that Mr. M. had to follow a therapy in bodily psychology biodynamic with me at my house for 1 year but not as an exchange of business processes. ... he had to do this therapy paying me as a regular patient!

He also explained that a therapist shouldn't have this kind of behavior and that as an expert he would like all therapists to do biodynamic therapy on themselves before taking their degrees, it is mandatory during the studies.

He also said he had met me a few days before he started law course with us because he was one of our experts for the Bio-dynamic exam.

He had read my paper, which I explained that I had been the victim of a pedophile and that thanks to the Raelian Movement I was able to balance my emotional state.

He also said that if Mr. M. didn't follow this therapy he would be dismissed from the course and he would encourage me to press charges against him.

So Mr. M. and I have signed an agreement with the whole class as a witness. Agreement carefully kept by the teacher. I have to report to him regularly ...

How funny! At the beginning of my studies, because I belonged to the Raelian movement, several students wanted to get me fired from the school!

Fortunately, the teacher was shocked that students learning to be therapists could make such comments. They had to leave the school.

Thank you Maitreya for everything you did for me Your teachings: self-love, self-confidence . . . I am proud to wear our symbol. I chose this religion and I trust and I abandon myself.

Thank you Maitreya for accepting this mission despite the difficulties. Elohim thank you for the love you give us, we children of the earth

Maitreya, I've often heard that even if there was only one good person on this Earth, you would follow through your mission: that's Love

IN JAPAN TOO, KUMIKO FIGHTS THE FUNERAL SYSTEM

Some Raelians might attend the Funeral as a part of regular social activities.

Maybe we attend a funeral not for the dead, but for the people who are still alive and present there. Or we attend just to be clear in mind and start over...

What I write here is my personal experience. Our beloved Maitreya suggested that I shared this experience with you..

My father died on January R 63 and I buried him with the cheapest method. My way of burying him will be considered as, "no respect for father" or "how ungrateful child I am" and all that, but for me, I just want to spend my money for the ones who are still alive, not for the dead.

He has been sick and in and out of hospital for the last 7 years. I saw him still alive for the last time on January 2nd. The doctor said then that he would live 1 year, if he was lucky.

My father died 2 weeks later. (1 year and 2 weeks are just too much difference in time, so I sued the doctor about it.)

I received the phone call from the hospital at 1 am, I assumed that it was a serious news, judging from the voice of the nurse. After receiving the phone call, I started to think over what to do after my father died..

The first thing that came into my mind was how to deal with the dead body. I wondered, " burying him would be troublesome to dig a hole.." "People might be unpleasantly surprised to find the human bones at the housing garden in the future.."

I thought it would be cleaner and easier to deal with bones after the cremation, so i checked the price of the cremation service. It would be 80,000 yen if I do it at my living district and it would be free if I do it at my father's living district, so I chose the free option.

I thought carrying the body wrapped in bed sheets or something to the crematory would be fine, but the people at the crematory claimed that the body had to be in the coffin to be inserted into the cremation machine.

I asked the reason why it had to be in the box for several times, but they kept on saying, " We cannot explain why, but it is the way.."

So anyway I decided to prepare the coffin for the cremation, as I was told, because I just wanted the body to be cremated. I checked the price of it and even the cheapest coffin would be 50,000 yen. A paper box for the pets was cheap, but it was too small for my father, so I decided to make one myself.

I went to buy wood materials at the home building center and made a box on the empty site near the hospital. Then I went to the hospital to pick up my father, but he had been already taken to the nearest funeral service home by mistake.

I was ready to put cotton stuffing to father's body holes and prepared the purchase of dry ice to keep the body cold (so that it won't get smelly).

when I arrived to the funeral home, my father was dressed up in an ugly kimono(such a typical dead person kimono, well he was dead alright but....)and lying on Futon with dead person make up..

He was completely frozen thanks to the dry ice and refrigerator,(even though it was only 10 hours ago that he died..)

I received his body and took it to my home with my small car.

We wanted to cremate it as soon as possible, but there was this regulation that cremation couldn't be done until 24 hours past after the death, so we had to keep the body for a while.

I asked the police for the body transport permission, but they said there was no such thing, so I drove with the doctor's death medical certificate in hand, just in case I was stopped by the police on the way..

The day passed and I felt relieved, but then I had to think about the bones after the cremation. I checked the cinerary urn, but the cheapest one would be 20,000 yen, so I called the crematory office and asked the conditions for it, they said there was no regulation on that, as long as it was large enough to take bones and heat resistant. So I remembered that I had this sour plum pot that I had at home, so I put the remaining plums out and washed the pot well. It would be a cinerary urn.

The next day at the crematory, there was this unforgettable moment when we, a foreigner(my partner) and a tiny woman(myself), were desperately trying to take out the handmade wood coffin box from the small car, 5 crematory workers were just looking at us as if they were seeing ghosts or something....just their look in their eyes..5 men could have helped us to take out the coffin box, but they just kept staring and standing still and did nothing.. that was incredible..

When a worker asked me, " Would you like to give the final Thurification? ", I said, " No thank you.."...

When they saw the sour plum pot for the cinerary urn... When they asked at the moment of picking up the bones, " where is the other person ? ", I said, " I can do it all by myself." ..

At each moment, they all gave me this crazy look, the creepy lookI wonder why...

When I finished picking up bones in urn, I smiled at them saying, "Thank you so much for today..", the workers showed me for the first time, the human like greeting faces.. I was so happy to give such a stimulating and unforgettable day to these workers, who had same boring routine days after days...

SWASTIKA DAY

RAELIAN MOVEMENT DECLARES JUNE 27 WORLD SWASTIKA REHABILITATION DAY

The press release that launched the action...

Rael, founder and leader of the International Raelian Movement, initiated the idea of a World Swastika Rehabilitation Day (WOSRED), which has been announced for Sunday, June 27, according to a statement released by the International Raelian Movement.

"This ancient symbol of peace, good luck and harmony was hijacked by the Nazis, so it's currently shunned in much of the West," said Ricky Roehr, Raelian Continental Guide for North America. "Nevertheless, it can still be found in Native American artifacts like Navajo carpets and Apache baskets and in pre-Nazi-era items that were manufactured right here in the United States. For example, it was used as the shape for a lucky Coca-Cola fob back when a soft drink cost a nickel. One can even find it on the floor of the Ein Gedi synagogue in Israel!"

He said other vintage uses of the swastika symbol in North America include the shape of an old highway marker in Arizona, the central image on a Will's cigarette pack and the design on old poker chips made by the American Playing Card Company.

"It was even used as the primary decorative element for a pre-Nazi era U.S. Army Boeing fighter plane," Roehr said. "In fact, the swastika was seen only in positive terms until the Nazis adopted it. We hope World Swastika Rehabilitation Day will help restore its reputation and integrity because it's an integral part of our Raelian symbol."

He noted that the Raelian emblem consists of two interlocking triangles representing infinite space, plus a center swastika that represents infinite time.

"This extraordinary emblem was given to us by our creators, advanced extraterrestrial scientists who came to Earth thousands of years ago and genetically engineered all life on this planet, including humans in their own image," Roehr said. "That's why the swastika figure is found worldwide in so many ancient cultures. It's still found in temples and shrines across Asia, but we want to see it rehabilitated worldwide."

Roehr said the Raelian Movement would like everyone to be involved in Swastika Rehabilitation Day.

"We hope to coordinate our actions with those of world religions retaining the swastika as a sacred symbol, like The Buddhist and Hindu religions" he said, noting that Raelian actions on the North American continent will take place in Miami, the Los Angeles area (Venice Beach) and in Toronto, Canada. Other events are scheduled in London, Lyon, Seoul, Tokyo and Sydney.

IN AUSTRALIA

We were blowing up helium balloons to lift a huge swastika in the air with other explanatory posters when the police came and ask us to stop, dismantle our signs, pop up the balloons and leave.

We were just minutes away from being ready to start our procession with the rest of the group on the beach of Surfers Paradise - Gold Coast.

After they threaten to arrest us all if we were not complying, I decided that I'll be the only one arrested and I refused to comply claiming my rights for freedom of expression. It was a bit dramatic... like surreal.

I was handcuffed, transported in the back of the van to the police station and locked up. Interesting experience...

They confiscated my signs and released me 1h later. They didn't charge me though they say they will or might. I think they just tried to intimidate me. Any way they succeeded in stopping everything.

We have filmed and photograph the arrest (see pictures below) and we will propose a youtube video.

We still want to do the action, possibly next sunday in Brisbane.

Love, Jarel

IN PUEBLA - MÉXICO

Ruben, Aida, Silvestre (D.F.) Beny, Cynthia, Alvaro, Vicente, MariCarmen (Puebla) met at the zócalo(main plaza) of the city at 11:00 am. to support the activity for the rehabilitation of the Swastika.

The place was ready for journalists and authorities, also other people and tourists coming from different parts of the city.

The Raelians wanted to take the opportunity and gather in one of the corners, we open our blanket and got ready to pass 1,500 flyers and give information. Our surprise was that people approached us identifying with our cause , we heard positive comments like one lady that asked "how can I help? I always believed that that symbol was one of peace, for the moment I will meditate for the swastika be rehabilitated" We gave her information and she will come to our gatherings...Later on, two persons approached us to tell us that they were Rael's followers and that they will be in all our events as supporters. A lot of young people came for information about the Movement and downloaded the books.

A few tourist wished us success!

A journalist also came to ask information about the Movement, she'll call us for an interview.

It was a magic morning supporting this planetary action, we by Eloise (L3) and his LA team make this event a success in the city of Angels.

Artist, Claude Chevey (L3) set out to trace a huge Swastika in the sand with the help of Guides Jocelyn Chabot, Thomas Kaenzig, Eddy Fernandez (L3) and Alonso Fretwell (L2). The sight of this huge swastika was powerful and incredibly Zen. The symbol of infinity in time was suddenly etched in the sand, its vibration impacting everyone around... us included! Bishop Lara, our National Guide, who honored us with her presence that day, religiously placed a Buddha at the center of the swastika to create peaceful connections in the uneducated mind. Throughout the afternoon, the reactions were varied and many. People often hesitated before taking our flyers. (Thank you, Guide Andre Pinsonneault for the beautiful graphic design!) There were some people who strongly voiced their dislike. Some concen-were happy to know that one day this symbol will regain the correct meaning.

SWASTIKA DAY IN L.A.

On Swastika Day, June 27th, the popular Venice California Boardwalk was its usual busy, eclectic Sunday destination for thousands of Los Angeles residents looking for ocean, beach, sunshine and entertainment. But, on that day, an unexpected breeze of consciousness disrupted their leisurely Sunday stroll ! 22 Raelians had come for Swastika Day!... from Las Vegas to San Diego from Tijuana, Mexico to Quebec, Canada (!) to help Guide Salem, assisted were jews who had relatives that died in tration camps and could not make peace with the true meaning of the symbol. Others started out angry and were surprised to find out that the swastika was associated with many peaceful cultures around the world... and that even Coca-Cola had used it on their bottles! Among the Raelians passing out flyers was Guide Marina Cocolios who has just moved to LA! Welcome dear sister!

During the afternoon, there were a couple of locals who physically walked over the sand swastika and tried to erase it with their feet in discontent. One of them was dressed like a "warrior". "Ho, yes! I know him" said our brother Jimmy Rich (L2) with a smile, "he is one of our regular beach characters!". The police was near by, ready to protect us if violence broke out, but they explained that the sand is public property and that as we are allowed to build our sand swastika, others are also allowed to destroy it. However, no one is allowed to touch our physical property and if someone did, they would intervene.

But, in spite of some strong vocal opinions heard during the diffusion, no incidents occurred during the 5 hour event. The raelian team was so peaceful and happy... The angels so sexy in their little bikinis, their bodies decorated with beautifully painted swastikas. Thank you, Lia Steinman (L2), for your creative touch! A few women passing by even came to have a swastika painted on their body. Once in a while, the "warrior" would come to make his destructive round and undo parts of the sand swastika. Quietly, the raelian angels went behind him and peacefully, almost playfully retraced the Swastika in the sand "like a monk his zen garden" observed Bishop Jean Gary, head of meditation teachings in the US.

The angels also offered a visual meditation that touched many spectators. An angel stood on each outer end of the swastika and, at the sound of a tibetan bell, they slowly walked towards the center as Buddhist monks do in the streets of Tokyo. The choreography was very religious to witness and for us Raelians, it took on an even deeper meaning. Indeed, through their conscious, feminine walk, we could tune in to our own passing through time while they retraced every piece of Elohim's symbol of infinity in time. When the four angels reached the center of the Swastika, they each kneeled down and bowed with their forehead touching the sand in complete humility. A timeless instant in the infinity of time.

Bishops Brigitte Boisselier, planetary head of Rael TV and Cameron Hanly leader of RVP were there to film and record this historical event with their team.

Beloved Maitreya, we wish to deeply thank you for this beautiful and consciousness rattling diffusion activity that each one of us had so much fun to be part of... a beautiful opportunity "to bring others happiness by revealing to them what was revealed to us"!

With all my love,Nadine Gary, USA Guide Trainee

IN WASHINGTON, DC

Our team in Washington DC had a great time as we got together for this wonderful action in rehabilitating the meaning of the Swastika...with an interesting start.

There were five of us (Kelvin Green, LuKael Green, Tara Nova, Sabrina Chapman, Upendra Singh). We had planned on doing our demonstration amidst the crowd in the Smithsonian Folklore Festival, which is held every year at Washington, DC. As we got ready with our posters and fliers, one of the event holders walked up to us and said that we could not hold such an event in the area without a permit. This was quite surprising to us because I had gotten permission from the Park Management, who had said that as long as we don't hold up more than 25 people, and don't play music we should be fine. Just to seek clarification on this issue, we went to the information booth. We were again told by the staff in the information booth (who checked with her manager) that we could do our demonstration there, so we went back. This time a security officer came and told us that we had to leave. We told him that we were given permission to stay there. After some discussion, we asked the security officer to check with the people in the information booth, as we were quite confused why one party would say yes, and the other no. So, we all went back to the booth, and the people in the booth apologized for misinforming us, and said that we would be only able to hold our event there if we had a permit. Hmmm...very interesting :) Wonder why :)

That did not stop us. We went right across the street and did our demonstration - handing our fliers, talking to people and doing the Buddhist Monk walk, with peaceful music playing. There weren't any really negative feedback from the people, except for one who threw the flier she was handed back at us. A significant number of people already seemed to know about the true meaning of the Swastika. There were a lot of children who wanted to take the fliers - good for them, as they got a chance to learn about the true meaning of the Swastika before they getting mis-educated!

Next year, we will try to get the permit and secure a place in the event location. It will be interesting to see if we will actually be granted the permit, as the security officer mentioned that they have the right to choose the content of the event as well. But of course, that will not stop us from demonstrating across the street - just like this year.

This was certainly a great experience for all of us who participated. As we educated the public about the true meaning of Swastika, we also felt the calmness and serenity in us in doing the monk walk. Thanks to our Maitreya for giving us this wonderful opportunity, as we got together to write history together =) YEAH!

LUV, Upendra, regional Guide.

MIAMI

On swastika day the police came in groves to tell us to leave and I refused, they tried everything to get us to pack up and leave but they had no legal right to do so as most of their contention was Raquel being topless and people complaining. I stood my ground and the only thing they had left to do was tell us we had to physically hold the banner as it was stationary on the easels. I said ok if this is a city ordinance then I will comply with that so we held them the rest of the afternoon and continued our event. My comment to the police was get ready for August as we will be back to protest the go topless event we have been doing the past 3 years and we will be topless. They all said yes we were here last year and they smiled and said see you in August. Here it is still technically illegal but as money dictates the hotels allow toplessness on the beach as they have many Europeans who come and stay so they look away. We are getting geared up for this year and are hoping more women will join us as we are only 2 right now. Go girls.

Donna

IN FRANCE/ BELGIUM & SWITZERLAND

Saturday at 3 p.m., 70 Raelians met in Lyon, for the action the Maitreya set in motion. The Swiss arrived by bus with Philip, thirty of them ! Since the event in Brussels was canceled... Jean Pierre Simon came alone from the west, Jean and his faithful friends from the north, Satan and his team from Alsace, with Mariella with the beautiful Raelians from the sea, Jaom from Paris with his friend who came along to discover who we are, Ricardo and Pojata from faraway Belgium, and finally Tsiphora's team from Lyon with the guides from Africa and Italy.

Harmony is more important than the goal !

Ah yes, I have seen and felt only the Raelian diamonds who were so happy to be in Lyon... only smiles, good mood, liveliness, and love ! So, surely you will have guessed that with this extraordinary harmony, well, the objective has been met !

With this well prepared event, authorized by the prefecture and discreetly protected by the police... with our balloons, our leaflets and our tee shirts, thousands, yes, thousands of people were informed.

Well done, Issaey, for the idea of inflatable balloons, what an impact !

The National Guide, like a fish in water, watched his brothers have fun and share the truth. For him, there was no better place on Earth this Saturday. Congratulations again to the new leader for Rhone-Alps, the adorable Tsiporha !Love, Kimbangu Mundele

IN ITALY, SVASTIKA DAY à ROME !!!

Sunday, June 27th, 64 a.H. We were in Rome for the "Swastika Day". With the coordination by Carlo, my super assistant, we developed the event in two phases: in the first part of the afternoon we met up at 4 p.m. in the city center for an authorized distribution of leaflets, at Largo Goldoni, on the Via del Corso, near the famous Piazza di Spagna.

The passers-by were numerous, most of them tourists, and we distributed hundreds of leaflets in Italian and English, provoking reactions, some of rejection but mostly of curiosity ! We were very visible, because we were all dressed in white and wore

T-Shirts that were printed for the occasion, plus we had a large 70x100 panel (28x40 inches). Behind us there was a police car watching over us ; the police never fail to accompany us at our events to ensure our protection, because they know us and they know that our intentions are peaceful, but that they may disturb some people, and so they take to the streets with us just like "guardian angels".

At 5:30 p.m. we completed the distribution of leaflets and we started the 2nd part of the day : we walked all the way to the monument which symbolizes this city, the Coliseum, passing through the Piazza Venezia and the Fori Imperiali... our tour was a parade of happiness ! All along the walk towards our destination, we attracted the attention of passers-by, foreigners and locals, thanks to our T-shirts and our radiant smiles. When we got near the Coliseum, we started to make videos and take numerous photos to leave for posterity ! During all that time we were the object of curious looks and we had fun like little pixies...

The "Swastika Day" team was composed by the Rome team, Carlo, Skylet, Cesare, Enzo, Pasqualino, Franko and myself, plus Giò and Gabriele from the Umbria region, Josel from the Piemonte region, Elena from the Toscana region, and Charly from the USA!!! During this historic day, 12 knights, dressed in white and armed with the symbol of infinity, spread love to awaken the consciousness of this wonderful humanity... Thank-you Elohim for allowing us to consciously participate in your project ! Thank you Maitreya for always providing us opportunities to enjoy fantastic experiences ! Thank you to the Raelian family for being made-up of special people and for living, all together, an out-of-the-ordinary life !!! :-)

EN ALLEMAGNE

Our day went well. As planned, we went to Karlsruhe, the city where the Constitutional Council is held. After one action downtown that lasted about 2 hours of demonstrating while holding posters, we went in front of the Constitutional Council building to take a few group pictures. That is where we met the police (the one that patrols the area) and soon after their colleagues from Land whom they called for help. They took our names and asked us about the reason of our presence, as they noticed our posters. They checked if our action fell under the law that forbids the use of the Swastika (I had brought all the documents and text to prove that we did not). Then, once they checked and realized that we were not dangerous and that our action as surprising as it was in their eyes was not punishable by the law, they let us go. The whole interaction remained friendly, respectful and without any trouble.

During our action in the pedestrian area (before meeting the police), I noticed to what extent, the German population is indoctrinated with this symbol. Very few dared to ask information. It was like: "I don't want to have anything to do with this and I don't want others to even think that I could be interested in such thing". People know that this symbol is forbidden but they are not aware of the details of the law about it.

This experience felt surreal... I think that Germany is the country in the world (with Austria maybe) where the most actions will be needed...

Marcel Hoffmann.

EN SUÈDE

We met up in Gothenburgh, the second largest city in Sweden, at a central square. We handed out leaflets and put up posters around the city. After the diffusion we went to a park and had a nice barbecue. During the whole time we were also filmed and followed by a tv-team, who are making a documentary about some of the minor religions in Sweden. We were five members to join the manifestation.

ON INTERNET

Someone contacted us about the swastika in synagogues and here is what he said in one of his emails...

Hello Michel,

Yes, that's right, Ein Ghedi is not an isolated case, the 2 places where I was able to see these swastikas are, on one hand, at the Sasa kibbutz, located at the Lebanese border. The Swastika was found on a lintel made of rock and had been found in the region by members of the kibbutz. On the other hand, there are 2 specimens in a Tcherkesse Village in Goland close to Quneïtra, One is a stone cemented on the step of a staircase, the other is part of a wall. Other specimens exist in the form of mosaics on the floor of an old Synagogue near Sfat.

You can imagine that this sort of relics is not well perceived in Israel. They are either hidden or destroyed, like this Golan village completely destroyed to the ground by tanks 2 days after my visit at the end of October 1967.

Now, I have known Rael since the '80's. I confess that I did not take him seriously back then. Since then, I discovered that he was completely right and thanks to the internet I was able to contact you all again. And I don't regret it for one moment. Fondly, Harry

IN KOREA

There were beautiful events for the swastika day in Korea. First, Korean raelians had public conference in the Messenger Center, Korean Raelians' own center. It was held on 26th, June. There were 42 participants.

The lecture was done by Dia, who is a Raelian member as well as a Buddhist monk.

We didn't have enough time for preparation, but he did so well with his deep understanding of the swastika and his various experience in Buddhism.

On the 27th of June, Korean raelians hosted the parade for celebrating the first swastika day in Korea. There were 40 Korean raelians in In sa dong, a very famous place of Seoul.

We Korean Raelians prepared the various preparations to inform Swastika, for example, swastika striker, flyers for swastika and the Maitreya from the west, and our message. Before the event, Korean Raelians sent mails with the invitations to many Buddhist temple. We are sure that it was a turning point to inform about the true meaning of swastika to Korean Buddhist monks.

On that day, many people were interested by our event. Especially people enjoyed having fun with the stikers of swastika.

We realized that the swastika is still a friendly symbol for Koreans, but our mission will be to inform them of its true meaning.

It was little but a big step in Korea.

Allow me to send you more beautiful news after the next Swastika day.

OTHER GREAT DIFFUSIONS

KOREAN RAELIANS APPEARED IN KOREAN BOOK FAIR.

We Korean raelians participated on the book fair at KOEX, the largest convention complex of Korea. And also we hosted a public conference for introducing the books 'Intelligent Design' and 'Sensual meditaion'.

The book fair is an annual big event. This year, there were 360 publish commanies from Korea as well as 590 ones from other countries.

In the booth, named 'the Messenger', KRM's publishing company for our books, we showed the book "Intelligent Design" with 5 points as well as some others of our books. And also we hosted various events like a femininity demonstration under the theme: 'the message of Love for the peace on earth', or a clitoraid awareness campaign. At the public conference and event we practice also sensual meditation.

The result was very impressive. We spreaded 4000 flyers of the message, and sold 18 books including the meditaion CDs. There were about 20 people in the conference, and they left their e-mail address on our visitors' book. We also gave our books to 6 celebrities including famous authors and actress. YTN, the number 1 news cable broadcasting system, covered our event.

VERACRUZ- MEXICO

Hiram Dib, interested and investigator of the UFO phenomenon, conducted a deep investigation on the Raelian philosophy and contacted us on internet to invite us to his program, giving us the opportunity to spread the messages. Beny (spokesperson) and Rafa (PR) made the trip to Veracruz, where we encounter Hiram who welcomed and hosted us with love at all times. In the afternoon he prepared a conference with the media, 15 people came representing radio, magazines and newspapers. They were very respectful at all times, expressing that they couldn't ask much since this messages were profound, and that had nothing to do with the garbage that circulates the internet.

Later, Hiram took us to channel 30 Ultravision, to a program he conducted, giving us the opportunity to talk about the Movement and messages at all times. Hiram expressed that he'll do his TPC on August 6th. and now there is a space in his program for the Raelian Movement, saying that is the minimum that he can do for the opportunity that "Elohim" gave him to know this wonderful philosophy.

Thanks beloved Elohim for this great opportunity, allowing us to proudly take this flame of Love to all the corners of the planet.

FEMININITY CELEBRATION IN COLOMBIA

By Monica Lorduy, Angel's leader for Columbia

It is such a pleasure for me to greet you and inform you of the wonderful day we spent celebrating Femininity Day. We carried out this event On Friday, the 14th of May, it was incredible, we met in the square of the walled sector of the city of Cartagena Colombia, with a couple of the most beautiful banners done by our brother Luis Fernando, which reflected the sensuality and femininity of the man and the woman accompanied of a few messages that were expressing them.

We were our dear Angel and Guide Ruby Macea, accompanied of our beautiful sister Martha Gutierrez who has come back to integrate in the family team again. We were accompanied by our beautiful boys (Raymundo Garcia, Angel Humberto Gutierrez, Captures Jose Martinez, Daniel Barros, Edwin Aparicio and his partner) and me, Monica Lorduy hihiihi.

It was a wonderful evening where we handed out 200 leaflets speaking about femininity and The Messages; together with a few caramels huuuummmm delicious! We laughed, danced... (By the way there was next to us a folk group dancing and they were attracting many people. People thought that we hired them! and the band was really wonderful!

It was fantastic sharing The Message with so many people, most of them men ;-)) and to make them understand the importance of refinement for our humanity!.

Enjoy the pics of all of us in the Plaza enjoying together this incredible mission of ours.

With all my love,

GAY MARCH, MEXICO - PUEBLA

By Veronica Arellano, Aramis Mexico

ARAMIS in Mexico invited all Raelians to go to Puebla, a small town 2.30hrs away from Mexico City to participate in the Gay Pride Parade. We were invited directly by the organizers of the Parade who learned about our Messages and what we do in order to get respect and love for religious minorities.

It was marvelous to see that as soon as we got there and opened our banners, the TV and press media got closer to take pics, videos and to interview us.

We had lots of college students asking us questions. They got lots of information and they told us they would ask their teachers to invite us to give a speech at the University. All along the way People would stop us to take pics and video of our banners.

Puebla is a very catholic city. It is very famous because of its 365 catholic churches in the little city. We were only 6 Raelians helping with this marvelous event.. Aida and Maricarmen, Vicente and Silvestre carried the banners and Beny was driving the car with other banners on the sides.

Cynthia gave away 1,500 flyers!! It was a wonderful experience and we had a wonderful day. Thank you dear Elohim and Beloved Prophet

CANADA. A PERUVIAN RAELIAN, FORMULA 1 LOVER, SPREADS THE MESSAGE DURING THE MONTREAL GRAND PRIX!

Eric Rever, a Raelian from Peru visiting Montreal, organized, in agreement with the national Guide Marc Rivard, a beautiful action during the Formula 1 Grand Prix which took place in Montreal on June 12-13. A simple idea which may have had an interesting impact through the official TV channel covering F1 which, according to a McLaren team member with whom Eric discussed, broadcast the banner on their network worldwide.

Congratulations for your creativity, dear Eric!

AUSTRALIA PRIDE

The Pride Rally, March and Fair Day 2010 was a wonderful and successful event once again. Each year just gets better and better for the Raelian presence at this event. We are now part of the furniture in a way, in that we are very much accepted and the people would really miss us if we weren't there. We add a great deal of colour as well as giving hope to the everyone, who is concerned about their sexuality and/or the future of Humanity.

LuXifer, Lani and Vas were at the rally with our slogan and marched through the city across to Musgrave Park for the Fair Day. Saul, Veronique, Jandy and George were part of our wonderful team at the stall. We met lots of beautiful people curious about our Message. We also met another Raelian, Stephen Kronfeld, who had had his transmission done in the early 1990s. He was dressed in a classic leather outfit and his partner will be in the next Mr Queensland Leather competition. They'd had seen the strange spiral lights that were going down the East Coast here recently.

Our stickers and postcards with the message F++K HOMOPHOBIC RELIGIONS continues to be a HUGE hit in the Gay, Lesbian, Bi-Sexual, Transgender communities. All our stickers were given out and Saul had to go home to print more, which also went to eager hands. People happily discuss where they are going to put the stickers. "I'm going to put it on my car." "I'm going to put it on my desk." etc.

Our new slogan GAY IS OUT THERE, GOD IS NOT has also been a big success. We did however encounter a few people who didn't want the sticker on account of its implication that God doesn't exist. During the day we encountered a Jewish lesbian, who was very offended by our Symbol. She said she was going to report us to the Anti-Discrimination Board. Naturally she hasn't studied the meaning of our symbol and it was difficult to communicate with her on account of her troubled personality. We trust that eventually she'll realise her assumptions are unfounded.

Pride goes for a month here in Brisbane. The social history exhibition Prejudice & Pride opened at the Museum of Brisbane earlier in the month. LuXifer and Jandy are represented in the show, which is the first of its kind to be held by a municipal authority in Australia. It can be seen daily at 157 Ann St, Brisbane City until October.

"Prejudice & Pride is a respectful and dignified exploration of the contribution that LGBT people have made to the history of Brisbane. The exhibition aims to break down the myths and stereotypes surrounding these communities as well as celebrating their achievements."

Happy Pride Everyone!!!, LuXifer, June 2010

IN TURKEY,

Kemal and Negar met for the Gay Pride in Istanbul. They had the chance of distributing more than 300 flyers !!

ARAMIS IN TEXAS,

I want to thank each one of you for participating in a mind expanding public service: Raelians at the Gay Pride event! I believe it was a great success and I'm thrilled to be a part of this beautiful group of people called Raelians!

We got about 40 email addresses which I will respond to today and tomorrow. We touched a lot of people and planted many seeds and had a great time in the process! I am just so elated about how well it all turned out. Thank you again for all the effort everyone put forth! I love you all deeply and dearly. You are in my heart and in my thoughts always.

With SO MUCH LOVE, Michele

ARAMIS AT SAN FRANCISCO's LGBT PRIDE

Who could have asked for a more delicious weekend to celebrate Pride? The amazing weather was perfect for suntan lotion, parasols, skimpy speedos, and, of course, Aramis :-) The parade, celebrating it's 40th year, drew hordes of spectators who sandwiched themselves for miles to see such a diverse audience and also a variety of groups participating in the parade, from politicians to drag queens and every possibility and color in between :-)) Simply fantastic and breathtaking!!

It goes without saying that San Francisco throws one of the most colorful and prominent LGBT Pride festivals in the world. With an estimated quarter of a million people from around the world, there is no question that Aramis was in the right place, at the right time taking part in a most delightful and vibrant event. Yes, the Raelian family in the Bay Area is small but our smiles was definitely at the rendez-vous and certainly attracted people from all walks of life with a different curiosity, attitude, quest, as well as people who simply wanted to reciprocate a smile, strike a conversation about the beauty of the differences, give love, have fun, or give us a "high 5" for standing up for what we believe in and thank us for being there to enlighten others :-)

For many, the parade is an opportunity for self-expression and festivity. And for Aramis it's a great opportunity to bring more consciousness and promote and support gay rights, whilst looking for those who share the same philosophy of life and the same goal of living their sexuality fully, without fear of condemnation, and with absolute love and respect for all humankind. Of course, a lot still remains to be done in order for LGBT equal rights to be recognized fully and unconditionally and, thanks to the vision and guidance of Maitreya Rael, Aramis-International will continue to be a major player in this issue, spread its wings, and reach out to the world.

ET CONTACT CONFERENCE IN MADRID, SPAIN (JUNE 26 AND 27)

The National Guide of Puerto Rico and Regional Guide of Madrid, Professor Willie Girald, participated in the international event about extraterrestrial contacts that took place in Madrid-Spain last June, 2010.

More than 700 people assisted at the conference from countries such as Italy, France, England, US and above all Spain. The speakers in the conference were Anne Givandan (organizer of the event), Patricia Cori, Steve Human, Patrice Marty, Isabel de la Fuente, Maurizio Cavallo, Robert Dean (former commander of the US army), Luis Fernando Mostajo and Rafael López Guerrero.

A brief description about them can be seen in this web: <http://www.etcontactconference.com/en/speakers.html>.

Despite numerous efforts to obtain an invitation as speaker in order to talk about the most important extraterrestrial contact in the history of this planet, the one given to our Beloved Prophet RAEL, they ignored my petitions and it was impossible for me to give a lecture at this event, even though one of the speakers could not arrive at the conference due to flight problems, which gave us more than one hour of unused time.

I also spoke personally with one of the organizers to see if they would let me place some 100 flyers on the registration table, but my request was denied too.

And yet, on the second day, two old ladies from the public interrupted the conference claiming that they were receiving a message from another dimension and the organizers of the event, immediately went to the stage and asked the women to share the received message.

Incredible!!

The old woman started speaking in an incomprehensible language and began uttering stupidities without making any sense. And yet, for the organizers of this event, this message was of the utmost importance!

The most incredible moment was when the Q&A time came, where with a lot of care I wrote three questions based on a premise related to the Prophets sent by the Elohim. Being a professor and due to my experience in the university I have learnt to formulate good questions. But the evaluating committee for the questions, selected a group of completely absurd questions containing no sense whatsoever.

So my questions ended up in the trash bin.

But not everything was negative. I made up a plan B to promote the Raelian Movement. If myself and all the people in the conference believed in the existence of extraterrestrials, then I had to take advantage of this common denominator. During break time I began to speak with small groups and with a lot of discretion I handed out my flyers. During lunch and break time, I entered the restaurants where I could see the majority of assistants and I sat at table after table and I spoke to everyone about the wonderful Raelian message.

Many were surprised of the organization, logic and discipline of the Raelian message, compared to the alleged messages given to several of the assistants in the conference, which in contrast with ours, were saturated of mysticism and irrationality.

On the last day of the conference, the last participant, a Patricia Cori, in the middle of her conference started screaming out that "there is no Messiah". This lady assured everyone to have had a contact with a being from another dimension known as "Cyrus" who told her that a consciousness jump in this humanity would take place through a change in the position of our solar system through a black hole that would be formed near the sun which would place our system onto another dimension. Raelian brothers and sisters, and this is not all!! There were even funnier things! She also said that dolphins are re-encarned extraterrestrials and that they speak to her! And yet to this woman it is incredible that a messenger (a Messiah) sent by scientists from another solar system known as the Elohim, is living among us and that her dolphins were created scientifically.

None of the assistants, as far as I could tell, used science as their guide and north. Most of them believe in a soul and that after death they will become beings of light, that is to say, a group of "thinking photons".

Another assistant, Luis Fernandez Mostajo, spoke about a council of elders belonging to an advanced civilization coming from planet Venus and who supposedly get in touch with him somewhere in Peru. Probably those extraterrestrials that contact with this man are not that advanced since they age, they are old men all of them! To conclude, none of those supposed contactees, to my understanding, communicated anything coherent, logical or credible. My hope resides in having been able to find a Raelian in the conference.

Lots of love to everyone.

Willie Girald

NEW STUDIES SHOW THAT JEWS AND PALESTINIANS ARE BOTH DESCENDANTS OF THE ANCIENT JEWISH PEOPLE

By Damien Marsic, PhD, Raelian Guide

It has long been known that Jewish and Middle-Eastern populations were genetically related, thanks to numerous studies of Y chromosomal and mitochondrial DNA. The recent development of DNA microarray technology allowed much finer genetic studies of human populations, by analyzing hundreds of thousands of nucleotides across the human genome. Last year, one such genome-wide study (1) revealed a distinct genetic signature for Ashkenazi Jews and suggested a Near-Eastern origin. Since then, two genome-wide studies, the first to include several Jewish populations, were published just a few days ago by two different teams (2, 3). Both confirmed a common Middle-Eastern ancestry for most worldwide Jewish populations, bringing an end to speculations that modern Jews could be mostly descended from converts with no link to the ancient Hebrews. However, there is another inescapable conclusion from those studies, that the authors did not address: Palestinians are genetically as close or closer to any modern Jewish population than are those Jewish populations to each other. In other words, genetic data is totally consistent with the idea that Palestinians are the direct descendants of ancient Jews who never left their ancestral land and who later converted to Christianity and to Islam (4, 5).

Behar's study, which is the most detailed, revealed that most Jewish populations (except Ethiopian and Indian Jews who are more closely related to their host populations) form a cluster with modern Middle-Eastern populations. There are actually three Jewish sub-clusters, one including Ashkenazi and Sephardi populations, another including Iraqi, Iranian and Caucasian Jews, and a third comprising Yemeni Jews. Remarkably, the Palestinian sub-cluster is located exactly in the middle of the three Jewish sub-clusters, suggesting that modern Palestinians are possibly even more closely related genetically to the ancient Hebrews than many modern Jews. In addition, any of the three Jewish sub-clusters is closer to the Palestinian sub-cluster than to the other two Jewish sub-clusters. This implies that if one considers Ashkenazi, Sephardi, Iraqi, Iranian, Caucasus and Yemeni Jews to all be part of the same Jewish people, then, from a genetic point of view, the Palestinians are an integral part of it.

If the latest genetic evidence vindicates Zionist ideas of Jews returning to their ancestral homeland, it also implies that this right of return should apply to all Palestinians, which have to be considered part of the same Jewish/Palestinian people.

Despite the seemingly hopeless current situation, a simple, sustainable, just and lasting solution to the conflict is therefore within reach. Israel must grant full citizenship to Palestinians, including all refugees. All must be given the right to return to their original homes, or receive proper financial compensation and be free to relocate anywhere in the country. All citizens should have the same rights regardless of their religion, including access to housing, education, health care, jobs and infrastructure. At the same time, Palestinians need to recognize Jews as equally legitimate inhabitants. It would be a win-win situation for all parties in the current conflict: the single state could be considered both a greater Israel and a greater Palestine with Jerusalem as its capital. It could still be a home for worldwide Jews who could still consider it as their spiritual center, as well as for all Palestinians.

The key to achieve a harmonious coexistence is to implement a total separation of church and state, as is the case in all other advanced countries. Any endorsement of one particular religion by a state is a discrimination against its citizens who happen not to adhere to that particular religion.

One common argument against the one-state solution is that Israeli Jews can not accept to become a minority. This becomes a non-issue when one realizes that Jews and Palestinians are actually the same people, as confirmed by genetic research. In order for everyone to feel accepted and protected, political power needs to be shielded from religious extremists. To achieve that, all political parties need to commit to human rights before representing any other values.

This is probably the only chance for Israel to survive, and a fantastic opportunity to correct its mistakes and become a beacon of hope for the rest of mankind.
